STOCK NOTES.

Texas sheep are suffering badly from the drouth.

In southern New Mexico cattle are assessd at $12.50.

Over fifty million dollars are invested in cattle in Colorado.

Plenty of rain is reported from the Sagebrush district in Nevada.

New stock yards are to be built at St. Paul. $500,000 has been raised for the purpose.

Ex Governor Routt has returned to Denver from his long visit east in the interest of stock growers.

Two vets in Nueces county, Texas, sprayed 200 head of heifers in seven hours or almost thirty per hour.

Four soldiers have been arrested and held to answer for killing cattle belonging to the Chiricahua company.

In Silver Lake Valley, Oregon, Geo. H. Thurston lost 5,000 sheep from a flock of 7,000, during the past winter.

The new scalp law prohibits the negotiation of scalps. The parties killing must personally apply for the bounty.

Men who have cattle and horses for sale and who advertise liberally are beginning to discover the value of printers ink.

R. L. Phillips, one of the owners of the Repreata cattle range in O-cense county died in Kentucky while on a visit there.

Prickly pear, which grows on the cactus is being largely used by Texas stockmen. The prickly pears are burned off before feeding.

T. T. D. Andrews, of Texas, is spoken favorably of as successor to Col. S. P. Cunningham, late agent of the bureau of animal industry.

Sixty thousand tons of alfalfa was harvested in Washoe county, Nevada last year, and it is believed 80,000 tons will be harvested this year.

A stockman named Nelson Story, of Bismarck, Montana Territory, writes that his loss of stock from severe weather has been fully 75 per cent.

There are in Montana about 1,600, 000 head of cattle. There were marshaled last year about 110,000 head, and 40,000 are required for home consumption. There are 500,000 calves Montana Live Stock Journal.

One hundred and twenty-five Arizona steers, which had been corned in Kansas the past few months, were sold on the Kansas City market at $4.45 per cwt. They averaged 1,200 pounds.—Las Vegas Stock Grower.

Cattlemen do not desire to shirk their just portion of taxation but cattle have materially depreciated in value during the past two years and ten dollars a head is as much as they should be assessed at so long as cattle values are so low as at present.—Hoof and Horn.

Feeding steers of ten to eleven hundred pounds are now selling in Kansas City and Chicago for ten to twelve dollars more than fat steers of same weight brought last fall. This is certainly a good sign of better prices the coming fall.—North Western Live Stock Journal.

The prevalence of white Short-horns among prize-winners at Birmingham was somewhat remarkable, remarks the London Live Stock Journal. The first prize cow was white; so, also, were the first, second and third prize winners. In the old bull class, the second prize bull in class 6 was also a white. It appears that the unfounded prejudice against white in Shorthorns is to some extent dying out.

Cattle dealers generally predict still higher prices for May and June, says the New York Tribune, based on the fact that there is a shortage of fat cattle in some sections and a surplus over last year in scarcely any of the States. Fewer cattle are being fed in stalls than last year, and Pennsylvania feeders say that there is no increase in the number of stable-fed steers.
The reports of a large supply in Kansas and Nebraska are believed to be exaggerated and while there is to be a lighter export demand than last season the home consumption of American beef has increased. "It is a fair inference that while there is to be no real scarcity, still with the higher freight rates which will be charged hereafter as well as for other reasons before mentioned, prices will rise firm up to the latter part of June."

Colonel S. P. Cunningham, of Fort Worth, Texas, died at his home last Monday morning. Colonel Cunningham has been prominent in live-stock circles for several years. He formerly lived in Kentucky, and was a captain in the Confederate army under General John H. Morgan. After the war he edited the True Kentuckian, published at Paris. He removed to Texas some years ago, where he assumed editorial control of the Live Stock Journal, of Fort Worth. When the two national live stock associations were consolidated something over a year ago Colonel Cunningham was elected Secretary, but we believe never entered actively into the duties of the office. As Agent of the Bureau of Animal Industry he has traveled extensively throughout the range country, and was in Denver three weeks ago on business connected with his office. He was devoted to the idea of securing protection to live stock interests from disease, and in his death the stockmen the West lose a valuable worker in the good cause.

I have seen many remedies in the Journal to keep ticks and lice off the body of the sheep. I have a sure remedy; one I have used eighteen years and find it a cheap and sure remedy. The hides and pelt of my sheep are as white and clean after the wool is taken off as a piece of white cloth. It seems to make them healthy and is a great advantage to the wool. I don't keep but few sheep, but have good ones. My remedy is this: When I shear I have ready a can filled with lard or lard oil made thick with sulphur and rub it on the sheep from the back of the head to the end of the tail and let it remain there. Rub hard with palm of hand or a paddle and in one month no ticks will be found on the sheep. The sulphur and grease will stay there nearly the season through. It will make the wool look like it was bleached next to the hide on the sheep. I recommend this and am responsible and can send to any one a sample of wool.
I never find scab, sores or shedding of wool on any of my sheep. The remedy is simple and cheap—45 cents to fifteen or twenty sheep.—Journal of Agriculture.

HORSE TALK.

Glanders is prevalent among the horses in Wisconsin.

Western bred horses are in demand in eastern markets.

The Epizootic has struck the horses of Macon City, Kansas.

A car load of Arizona native horses were marketed in Leadville last week at satisfactory prices.—Range Journal.

California will have to pay $5.40 for a wool rate to the Atlantic coast.
The remedy is to manufacture her own wooled goods.

A strip of sheepskin, with long wool, tacked to the place where a horse sets its teeth, and filled occasionally with cayenne pepper, will, it is said, have a restraining effect on the worst "cribbler."—Sagebrush Stockman.

The first meeting of the Rocky mountain circuit will begin at Puerto, Colo., on May 17th, continuing four days. The Denver races will begin on Tuesday of the next week, May 24th, and continue until and include Saturday—five days.

To cure spoiled bucking horses and horses that jump fences and get out of pastures, punch holes in both ears, draw the ears back flat and tie them in the mane. It is claimed that horses will neither buck nor jump unless they can throw their ears forward.

The statement is made that Southern California is rapidly developing into a live stock market of such magnitude as will require all the surplus beef raised in Arizona to supply it.
The manner in which the country is being settled up and all available land taken for fruit culture makes it impossible for it to supply the home market with either beef or mutton.

In his stables at St. Petersburg the Car of Russia maintains 500 selected horses, as fine as there are in the world. Two of these were badly injured while drawing the Car's firerigs, under which the Nihilists fired a bomb. They are now lame and useless, but are stabled luxuriously, attended constantly by four grooms, and blanketed with downy cloths of quilted silk.—Philadelphia Press.

For a farmers use a horse is worth, says an exchange, more at seven than at any other age. He has nearly as many years of service before him as at a less age, and at seven is past the danger of being strained or injured by overwork. How old he must be before becoming superannuated depends upon circumstances. A horse overworked becomes played out at an age when one well treated is still able to do good service.

Henry Clay, the great sire of many speed producers, died on Wednesday April 13th, at the Middletown stock farm of J. D. Willis, aged thirty-four years. He was foaled in 1853 at Wantage, New Jersey. He was sired by Neave's Quisus M. Clay, dam by imported Bell Founder, and he passed through the hands of several owners to Hon.
E. Corning, of Albany. In 1879 he was sold at auction to J. D. Willis for $1,000, and immediately enough mares were booked to cover the price.
His reputation was not that of a sire of performers, but as a sire of producers, eight of his daughters producing fourteen performers, among them St.
Julien, with a record of 2:11 1/2.
As a breeding horse he ranked next to old Hambletonian. An appropriate monument will be erected over his grave.

Alien Land Law.

A very important measure was passed by the last congress regarding the rights of Aliens to acquire and hold large tracks of western lands.
The following is a synopsis of the provisions of the bill as published by the Stock Growers Journal of Miles City:
Sec. 1. Provides that neither aliens nor alien corporations can in future acquire real estate in any of the territories nor in the District of Columbia except in inheritance or in the ordinary course of justice or by virtue of existing treaties.
Sec. 2. No corporation, 20 per cent. of the stock of which is owned by aliens can acquire lands.

Sec. 3. No corporations other than those organized for the operation of railways, canals or turnpikes shall acquire, own or hold more than five thousand acres in the territories of the United States. Nor shall they own more than the necessary amount of land for their operations.

Sec. 5. A violation of this law will be equivalent to a forfeiture and the attorney general is directed to enforce these provisions strictly.

As a large portion of the stock invested in some of our cattle companies is foreign, the above synopsis of the law now in operation will be interesting. The matter has been agitated for years and that portion of the measure regarding foreign owners is undoubtedly good.

The Spring Months
Are undoubtedly the best in which to purify the blood and strengthen the system, because at this time the body is most susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. The feeling of debility, languor, and lassitude, caused by the changing season, is entirely overcome, and scrofula and all humors are expelled from the blood by the powerful reviving and purifying influences of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Do not delay—Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It is made by C. I.
Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., for a book containing many remarkable cures.

WOOL.

Figures Showing the Number and Quality of Sheep in the World.

The recent report of the agricultural bureau places the number of sheep in the United States at 44,759,314.
This is probably an underestimate, since it does not include the ranch sheep of some of the territories; but even if the flocks of the United States did not exceed the agricultural department's figures they would still surpass those of other nations, and would show the great importance of the wool interests of our country. From the latest statistics of sheep husbandry in Australia we find that the aggregate number of sheep in the five provinces of that continent is 62,669, 667. More than half of these are in New South Wales.

From the statistics published we should estimate the total number of sheep in the world as follows:
South America . . . 100,000,000 Australia and New Zealand . . . 70,000,000 Europe . . . 212,000,000 Africa . . . 25,000,000 Asia . . . 50,000,000
United States . . . 45,000,000 Canada . . . 3,000,000
All other countries . . . 5,000,000

Total . . . 517,000,000 Many of these animals, however, though designated as sheep, grow hair instead of wool. The fine fleeces of the modern domestic sheep which have taken the place of the hair of the primitive ovine are largely the result of careful breeding and culture.
This is a very suggestive fact for economic writers who are inclined to write about wool as though it grew without care or attention.—Boston Advertiser.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Those diseases will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80, 000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggists about it.
Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents.
Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.
